OUR VISION

“A truly thriving Catholic community, confidently and humbly proclaiming
the Good News of Jesus Christ.”

Remember, remember

According to the Crown Prosecution Service,

“the term 'hate crime' can be used to describe a range of criminal behaviour where the perpetrator is motivated by hostility or demonstrates hostility towards the victim's disability, race, religion, sexual orientation or transgender identity.

These aspects of a person's identity are known as 'protected characteristics'. A hate crime can include verbal abuse, intimidation, threats, harassment, assault and bullying, as well as damage to property.”

Since 23rd June 2016 there has been a steep rise in hate crimes in the UK, increasing by 40% according to some reports (The Guardian, 16th October 2018). Since Donald Trump became president of the United States of America hate crime has risen by 21% (The Federal Bureau of Investigation).

Last week-end the terrible shootings in the Tree of Life Synagogue in Pittsburgh was a further example of this appalling trend.

It has been suggested that there are four main motives for hate crimes: Thrill-seeking, Defence, Retaliation and mission-offenders.

Thrill-seekers are often young and impressionable, encouraged by rabble-rousers who see their victims as “fair game”.

Defence offenders are those who believe that their community, way of life, religion, race or even their country is under attack and see themselves as defending themselves or their community.

Retaliation offenders are those who respond to defence offences with the same sort of behaviour.

Mission offenders are those who have a deep-seated hatred for a particular group of people and believe that they have a destiny or a ‘divine mission’ to attack and kill people of that group. These are the ones who attract most notoriety.

Most hate crimes do not fall neatly into just one of these categories but have more complicated backgrounds involving more than one motive. Although this is therefore a simplification, it covers most cases.

(Source: a CNN report based on the FBI training manual)

Tomorrow is the commemoration of another attempted hate crime when the conspirators attempted to blow up the Houses of Parliament and kill the King and members of both houses of Lords and Commons. It is a mercy that they did not succeed, but the attempt needs to be set in its context.

The first motive of the conspirators was one of defence. The Catholic community was under threat — simply to be a Catholic was a crime and to be a priest was a capital offence, punished by the cruel process of hanging, drawing and quartering, but this would only come after torture.

To a degree, retaliation was therefore also a motive. If the government could treat people in such a manner, it could be argued that blowing them up was a more humane death than that which they were inflicting.

The conspirators were all young men, and maybe they would have got a thrill out of seeing their plan succeed.

In reality, the effect of the Gunpowder plot was to increase and prolong persecution of Catholics in England and Ireland, and prohibitions against Catholics have continued into our own century. Anti-Catholic bias is not confined to Northern Ireland to this day. In the town of Lewes in Sussex, the annual bonfire not only burned in effigy Guy Fawkes, but also Pope Pius V. (It is recorded that in 1981 Ian Paisley attended the fireworks and distributed anti-Catholic leaflets. However, this backfired on him because the next year an effigy of him was added to those on the fire!)

This is a salutary reminder that hate crimes and the preaching of hatred seldom achieves its purpose, and frequently achieves the reverse.

Today, although there is a degree of residual bigotry against Catholics, it is others who are the more frequent victims of hate crimes. Anti-Semitism, Islamophobia and race-hatred have overtaken suspicion of Catholics.

There should be no place for hatred in the human heart, apart from the hatred of hate itself and the hate of all sin. If the chant “Remember, remember” is a reminder of hatred and suspicion, let it also be a reminder that this hatred is deeply sinful. Our Lord prayed that we “may all be one” as he and the Father are one.

Scripture Readings 4th November 2018, 31st Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year B

Deuteronomy, the “second law”, the last of the five books of the Pentateuch, was written long after the Israelites settled in Palestine. It summarises, expands and completes the record of the Law given by God to Moses. It was very familiar to Jesus, who quoted from it frequently. Today’s reading ends with the “Schema”: “Listen, Israel, the Lord our God is the one Lord”, the basic principle of the Mosaic Law, and familiar to all Jews.

The psalm is said to be by King David, giving thanks to the Lord for rescuing him after he had called for help in dire distress. David goes on to imagine God sending earthquakes and raining down lightning bolts and arrows to overwhelm his enemies.

The Letter to the Hebrews continues from last week, explaining

This is a complicated prayer: first we need to recognise that in the second line the prayer speaks of God’s gift to us; this is to say, Jesus Christ who “emptied himself, taking the form of a slave” (Philippians 2:7).

Therefore the “right and praiseworthy service” that we offer is to be seen in humility and obedience to God.

Almighty and merciful God,
by whose gift your faithful offer you
right and praiseworthy service,
grant, we pray,
that we may hasten without stumbling
to receive the things you have promised.

Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

that Christ is a priest forever, replacing the priests of the tribe of Levi, each of whom dies and has to be replaced. For our sake Christ sacrificed himself once and for all.

When Jesus is asked in today’s gospel which is the first of all the commandments, the Schema is what he immediately thinks of. There is one God, and we must love him with an undivided heart.

Psalm Response: I love you, Lord, my strength.

(Deut 6: 2-6; Psalm 17(18):2-4,47,51; Hebrews 7: 23-28; Mark 12: 28-34)

Chris Oliver

We pray that we may hasten “without stumbling”, and the original Latin has the word “offensione”, which could mean either our own sin or obstacles placed in our way. The root of the word “promise” is “promittere”, which also means “to send before” Jesus is the one who was sent before to undergo death and reveal the resurrection, and we run after him “with perseverance the race that is set before us, looking to Jesus” (Hebrews 12:2)

Hope Centre to be made homeless

It is a strange irony that the Hope Centre is the Mayor of Northampton’s charity for the year and yet the Borough Council is supporting Midland Heart in evicting them from Oasis House. Ironically Midland Heart has on their web-page: (on Saturday 27th October, and several days after the announcement of their decision to evict the Hope Centre) “Oasis House is a revolutionary service that offers accommodation & support to homeless people in Northampton. There are 48 units at the scheme with 9 direct access beds & 39 move on apartments. Oasis House services are delivered in partnership by Northampton Borough council who have their gateway housing solutions team on site, Northampton Hope Centre who provide day centre services to the homeless by providing meals, clothing, training & activities.”

St Gregory’s parish have been supporters of the Hope Centre since its very start. There is an on-line petition at: <https://www.change.org/p/midlands-heart-save-the-hope-centre>.

Monastic Experience Weekend

Quarr Abbey, Isle of Wight: Friday 8th (evening) - Sunday 10th March 2019

The Monastic Experience Weekend is designed to give single Catholic men aged 18-35 the opportunity to sample monastic life, as it is led at Quarr Abbey in the Benedictine tradition of the Solismes Congregation. They will be able to attend the liturgical worship in the church, pursue personal prayer and meditation on the Bible in the prayerful silence of the monastery, and hear talks from the monks about their way of life, their liturgy and the Rule of Saint Benedict which they follow. There will be opportunities to participate in the work of the monks and to ask questions. It will be of particular interest to those wanting to explore the possibility of a vocation.

Contact: Brother Duncan - novicemaster@quarr.org

Annual Parish Requiem

The annual Mass for those whose funerals have taken place in the past year from St Gregory’s or by St Gregory’s clergy will be on Tuesday evening, 27th November at 7.00 pm. In addition to those who have died in the last year, any whose names are given during the half-hour before the Mass begins will be remembered. Those who come are invited to bring a flower as a symbol of remembrance — after the Mass they will be placed at Our Lady’s shrine.

Throughout the month of November the names of any who have died may be placed in the box under the Altar — at each Mass during the month those people will be remembered collectively.

Ecumenical Walk

Broadmead Baptist Church are celebrating their new building with a sponsored walk from Northampton’s oldest church (St Peter’s, Marefair) to the newest (theirs). On the way they will be visiting 15 other churches, and expect to be arriving at St Gregory’s at about 3.25 on Saturday afternoon, 10th November. The walk begins at 1.00 pm at St Peter’s, and is about 6 miles in length. If anyone would like to join the walk please contact <https://broadmead.churchsuite.co.uk/events/gio3bdbq>. All are invited to meet the walkers when they arrive at St Gregory’s
