OUR VISION

The Year of the Word begins

On November 11th, Pope Benedict released a document entitled Verbum Domini, addressing the Word of God in the Life and Mission of the Church. It has been called the most important document on the Word of God since Vatican II's Dei Verbum

The document is broken up into three main sections (plus an introduction and conclusion):

1. Verbum Dei--a more academic analysis of the Word of God found in Scripture and Tradition
2. Verbum in Ecclesia--a look at how the Word of God influences the life of the Church
3. Verbum Mundo--an examination of how the Word of God can be used to preach the Gospel to the world

“I encourage all the faithful to renew their personal and communal encounter with Christ, the word of life made visible and to become his heralds” (no. 2).

“There is no greater priority than this: to enable the people of our time once more to encounter God” (no. 2).

Section One--Verbum Dei (The Word of God)

To begin this section, Pope Benedict looks at the Word of God throughout Salvation History. The understanding of Salvation History, looking at God's plan of salvation throughout history, regularly occurs in the document.

Benedict affirms that Christianity “is not a ‘religion of the book’: Christianity is the religion of the word of God”, not of ‘a written and mute word, but of the incarnate and living Word. Consequently the Scripture is to be proclaimed, heard, read, received and experienced as the word of God, in the stream of the apostolic Tradition from which it is inseparable.” (no. 7).

“Calling to mind these essential elements of our faith, we can contemplate the profound unity in Christ between creation, the new creation and all salvation history. The word of an author who expresses himself through the ‘symphony’ of creation. In this symphony one finds, at a certain point, what would be called in musical terms a ‘solo’, a theme entrusted to a single instrument or voice which is so important that the meaning of the entire work depends on it. This ‘solo’ is Jesus...The Son of Man recapitulates in himself earth and heaven, creation and the Creator, flesh and Spirit. He is the centre of the cosmos and of history, for in him converge without confusion the author and his work” (no. 13).

There is a beautiful quote on Mary's relationship to Scripture: “Mary is the image of the Church in attentive hearing of the word of God, which took flesh in her. Mary also symbolizes openness to God and others; an active listening which interiorizes and assimilates, one in which the word becomes a way of life (no. 27

Section Two--Verbum in Ecclesia (The Word in the Church)

This section focuses on the role of Scripture in the life of the Church. In particular, it looks at Scripture's relationship to the liturgy.

The document also adds some practical notes for families. The Synod suggested that every family have a Bible and that it be kept in a worthy place for reading and prayer (no. 85). It also stresses forming small communities of families, where common prayer and meditation on passages of Scripture can be cultivated.

Section Three--Verbum Mundo (The Word in the World)

The Word of God and the new evangelization take centre stage in this section as the very mission of the Church. The title of this section is: “The Church's Mission: To Proclaim the Word of God to the World.” Notice the proclamation of the Word of God is not one element of the mission or one piece of the mission but the mission of the Church. In a sense, this section appears to sum up many of the missionary documents we have seen in the past (Evangelii Nuntiandi and Redemptoris Missio) while taking them to a new level.

“This is why the Church is missionary by her very nature. We cannot keep to ourselves the words of eternal life given to us in our encounter with Jesus Christ: they are meant for everyone, for every man and woman” (no. 91).

“The Synod reaffirmed that ‘the mission of proclaiming the word of God is the task of all of the disciples of Jesus Christ based on their Baptism’...A consciousness of this must be revived in every family, parish, community, association, and ecclesial movement. The Church, as a mystery of communion, is thus entirely missionary, and everyone, according to his or her proper state in life, is called to give an incisive contribution to the proclamation of Christ” (no. 94).

Conclusion

“Finally, I turn to every man and woman, including those who have fallen away from the Church, who have left the faith or who have never heard the proclamation of salvation. To everyone the Lord says: ‘Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if anyone hears my voice and opens the doors, I will come in to him and eat with him, and he with me’ ” (Rev. 3:20) (no. 124).

St John of the Cross (Celebrated on Saturday this week)

He was born in Fontiveros, in Spain, in about 1542. He spent some time as a Carmelite friar before, in 1568, Saint Teresa of Ávila persuaded him to pioneer the reform of the Carmelite order. This was a difficult task and a dangerous one: he suffered imprisonment and severe punishment at the hands of the Church authorities. His little drawing on “Christ from above” is preserved at Avila, and has been an inspiration to many, including Salvador Dali, whose “Christ of St John of the Cross” is in homage to this drawing.

He died at the monastery of Ubeda in Andalusia on 14 December 1591: the monks there had initially treated him as the worst of sinners, but by the time he died they had recognised his sanctity and his funeral was the occasion of a great outburst of enthusiasm.

His works include two major mystical poems – he is considered one of the great poets of the Spanish language – and detailed commentaries on them and the spiritual truths they convey. He was canonized in 1726 and declared a Doctor of the Church in 1926.

Scripture Readings 8th December 2019, 2nd Sunday of Advent, Year A

The readings for Advent from Isaiah continue with this description of the ideal king, who will come from the remnant of Israel – the stump of Jesse, of David’s dynasty. This was applied by Christians to Jesus. But Isaiah was seeking to comfort his people, under attack by Assyria, as he foresees an idyllic future when the whole of creation will live in complete harmony. Only the “fear of the Lord” and the “knowledge of the Lord” could bring this about.

The psalm looks forward to the coming of a perfect king, the Messiah, whose rule will be just and his reign glorious.

Paul’s letter to the Romans exhorts the two groups of Christians in Rome to work patiently together, ignoring varying degrees of conformity to the Jewish Law. We must learn about God from the Jewish Scriptures, the Old Testament, so that we may worship him in unity of mind and mouth. The Messiah’s sufferings show that God keeps His promises, and will lead all nations, both Jews and Gentiles, to praise God.

In the Gospel John the Baptist, the last prophet of the Old Testament, prepares the way of the Lord by urging people to repent, to turn towards God from their sins. But he condemns those who say they have no need of God.

Psalm Response:

In his days justice shall flourish and peace till the moon fails.

(Isaiah 11:1-10; Psalm 71(72); Romans 15:4-9; Matthew 3:1-12)

The Season of Creation

Actions to Live Simply :

Communication with eye contact melts ‘Stranger fears’.

Tip No. 21: Actions to LiveSimply: Try the Free Catholic ‘app’ Laudate on your mobile phone. Daily Bible Mass readings simply where ever you are.

Tip No. 22: Live sustainably with Creation: keep the sacred nature of consciousness always alive within us (keeping Jesus’s way).

PRAYER

God of peace and justice,
you give us the capacity to change,
to bring about a world that mirrors your wisdom.
Create in us a desire to act in solidarity,
so that the pillars of injustice crumble
and those now crushed are set free. Amen

In order to reduce the carbon footprint of the parish through the winter the Thursday Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament will be in the Sacristy. This should also make it more comfortable for those praying, and (as a spin-off benefit) reduce the heating bill for the parish
The parish is also investigating the possibility of rainwater harvesting for flushing the toilets.

Many thanks to Harry and Helen Charles who have offered to co-ordinate our parish’s work towards the “Living Simply Award”.
Anyone who is interested is being involved in this, please contact them, or speak to Fr Andrew

The Year of the Word

We have sold out of the Advent Scripture Cards. They have been well received. However, they are useable every year (unlike ones with chocolate!), and even now they can be started. They are available from the Catholicism Store, which is an on-line shop. It is worth a visit, and is the main supplier for the “Word on Fire” DVDs, the Bishop Robert Barron videos. You will find it at: www.catholicismstore.co.uk. Sadly, the price for a single set is £7.00
