OUR

“A truly thriving Catholic community, confidently and humbly proclaiming the Good News of Jesus Christ.”

VISION

A New Pentecost

This was the title of a significant book by Cardinal Suenens, Archbishop of Mechelen-Brussels, published in 1974. In it he writes:

“How can we Christianise today such a vast number of nominal Christians? How can we evangelise a world which has become, to a large degree, post-Christian? What can we do, so that there may be a real flowering of a Christianity, freely chosen in which a Christian is recognised as someone who, fully aware of what is implied, is “converted” to Christ, who, by an act of personal allegiance ratifies the sacraments of his Christian Initiation, Baptism, Confirmation and the Eucharist: who moreover opens himself, in expectant faith, to the action of the Holy Spirit and to his gifts, that he may be faithful to his supernatural calling. This is the heart of our pastoral problems: the glaring contrast between the nominal and the authentic Christian.”

Later on in the same chapter he continues:

“We need, in short, a Church composed of those who want to belong, in whom the freedom of God’s children is so plain to see that the consequences of being a Christian appear not as authoritarian injunctions imposed from without under pain of mortal sin, but as imperatives felt deep within us springing up from a source that is the logic of our faith”

He then says:

“The Christian of tomorrow will not be able to face the future if we have not passed on to him a Christianity full of hope. We must give to him a faith which is strong and exhilarating: grafting on to the power of the Holy Spirit, protected under the shadow of his wings, performing “signs and wonders” which attest that we too live in that burgeoning of new life which is Pentecost.”

Cardinal Suenens had hoped that the Second Vatican Council would bring a more immediate response to the opening of the “windows of the Church so that we can see out and the people can see in” (reportedly words of Pope St John XXIII), often (wrongly) quoted as opening the windows to let the Holy Spirit in. It is now understood that the fruits of Church Councils are not seen until the second generation after the council; that is to say, about now!

He speaks of “a source that is the logic of our faith”, and in so doing, is speaking of the Holy Spirit. Theology speaks of two sources of knowledge, natural law and revealed law. Natural law is that which we can discover or infer from purely human understanding — the laws of physics, for example. Revealed law is that which we know through the teaching of Jesus; through the Scriptures or through the teaching authority of the Church. In both of these, the Holy Spirit is a key player. “In the beginning . . . the earth was a formless void and a darkness covered the face of the deep, the Spirit of God swept over the face of the waters, and God said ‘Let there be light’; and there was light.” (Genesis 1:1-3) All creation, and therefore human understanding is a gift of the Holy Spirit. It was the Holy Spirit that inspired the Scriptures and the Holy Spirit that, as Jesus promised, would guide the Church into all truth. (John 16:13)

In our generation, “Divine Renovation” is a fruit of the Holy Spirit, and with the Spirit’s inspiration, our Alpha courses are a manifest blessing. There are those who are coming to faith for the first time or are recognising that the faith they already had has brought them into the community of the Church. There are others for whom their faith has come alive to them in a new and wonderful way, and are experiencing for themselves what it means to be an “authentic Christian”.

The feast of Pentecost was a new beginning — it is sometimes called the Birthday of the Church. This is the day when the Church first began to obey the “Great Commission” to “go out to the whole world and proclaim the Good News”. While in the calendar of the Church it marks the end of Eastertide, its real significance is as a starting point.

Before the reforms which followed the Second Vatican Council, the weeks for the rest of the Church’s year were described as “after Pentecost”, and this reminder that we are living in an era which is “after Pentecost” should have directed the Church in the path that Cardinal Suenens was indicating in his book, which would have made his book unnecessary! For nearly 2,000 years the Holy Spirit has been guiding the Church, although sometimes through human frailty, those in the Church have failed to follow that guidance; sometimes because they were not listening to the voice of the Spirit, sometimes because they (mistakenly) thought they knew better, and sometimes simply through human pride and sinfulness.

Today we continue to seek to follow the guidance of the Holy Spirit in faith and loyalty to the community of faith that was founded by Jesus, and obedient to his teaching. Our “Bible Timeline” courses, our Alpha, the weekly Thursday Adoration, our various prayer groups and small communities and many other activities are all manifestations of this.

The Charismatic Movement has reminded us of a truth that has always been the teaching of the Church. This beautiful prayer is about 1,400 years old!

It is a prayer of extraordinary breadth. First, and most obviously it is Trinitarian. It is addressed to God; it recalls the preaching of the Good News of Jesus and it prays for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit.

It speaks of the beginnings "when the Gospel was first proclaimed" and it

O God, who by the mystery of today's great feast sanctify your whole Church in every people and nation, pour out, we pray, the gifts of the Holy Spirit across the face of the earth and, with the divine grace that was at work when the Gospel was first proclaimed, fill now once more the hearts of believers.

Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

speaks of "now".

It speaks of the outpouring of the Holy Spirit "across the face of the earth" and also that the Spirit will fill our own hearts, as each one of us is numbered among the believers.

"It will be given to you, a good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over will be put into your lap". A true cornucopia of blessings!
(See Luke 6:38)

Scripture Readings 9th June 2019, Pentecost, Year C

The Jewish feast of Pentecost, 50 days after Passover, was less well known than the other two pilgrimage feasts. Passover was linked to the nomadic sacrifice of lambs and the barley harvest in the Spring. Tabernacles after the grape harvest was associated with the wanderings in the desert. Recently it was realised that Pentecost was associated with God giving the Covenant on Sinai. So the coming of the Holy Spirit on the Apostles at Pentecost fits neatly with this Covenant feast: the formal birth of the Christian Church. Acts lists the regions where the Church was to grow.

The psalm calls us to praise God's creative wisdom. Filled with wonder at the details of God's glorious works, this psalm is well worth reading in full.

Paul urges the Romans to live by the Spirit who, with Christ, has made his home in us. We are now Sons of God. If we are led by the Spirit within us to follow God's laws, we will have confidence that the Father will "give life to our mortal bodies", just as Jesus was raised.

In John's Gospel we hear from Jesus' long Last Supper talk, promising that his Father would send the Advocate, through whom he and the Father would be with his church for all time.

Psalm Response: Send forth your Spirit, O Lord, and renew the face of the earth.

(Acts 2: 1-11; Psalm 103(104); Romans 8: 8-17; John 14: 15-16, 23-26)

Corpus Christi Procession at Great Billing

There is a record of the Corpus Christi procession at Billing in 1875, at which the Bishop Amherst, the second Bishop of Northampton presided. The report in the "Tablet" says that there were over 1,000 people present. It was described: "It was a most glorious sight, for all the way of its long course was amongst large trees celebrated even here for their size and beauty; and the Blessed Sacrament was treated with the utmost respect by the villagers, who were Protestants, and devotion, of course, by Catholics; and to see the groups kneeling about as it passed was a sight that will, I know, be long remembered here"

The procession has continued down the years, and is now the occasion for all those who have received Holy Communion for the first time to walk in front of the Blessed Sacrament, and it always an occasion of great joy. This year it will be on Sunday 23rd June, and the procession begins at 3.00 pm. All our First Holy Communion children are invited to take part, as is everyone. Please mark that date in your diary!

Pastoral Area Reflection Day: July 6th

Bishop Peter has asked all Pastoral Areas to have a "Reflection Day", to consider pastoral provisions for the future. This is not to do with the deployment of priests; rather it is to do with the third part of the "Together in Faith" campaign which was the development of Lay Ministry. We will be led by Avril Baigent, and it is important that each parish is well represented.

The event will be at St Edmund Campion school in Wellingborough, and will begin at 10.30 am and end at 4.00 pm. A sandwich lunch will be provided for all those who attend. Please mark this date in your diary.

Where does the Bible fit into your daily life?

Ahead of 2020 Year of the Word, we would like to hear how people currently make use of Holy Scripture. The information, which is submitted anonymously, will help us to plan events and resources that will help you and those you meet to hear more effectively The God Who Speaks. Please take part in our 'The God who Speaks' survey:

The Karuri School Project

Supporting Sacred Heart School, Naivasha, Kenya — "A Dream for Something Better" - Wangari Cecilia

It's approximately one year since my last visit to England. I was delighted to have an opportunity to visit your church and to share with you the charity work I do, caring for the orphans and destitute children in Kenya. Thank you to all the priests for allowing me to visit your Parish.

The first 15 children that we took in 2011 completed Year 8 in 2014 and joined secondary school in 2015. Out of those 15 children, 11 are going to join university, while 4 are going to join colleges. It's amazing. Thank you so much. Last year November our year 8 performed excellently well in the national primary exam.
