Pope Leo XIV: "This occasion [of the Adoremus National Eucharistic Congress, 2026] offers me the opportunity to express my spiritual closeness to the faithful of England and Wales and to encourage all of you to continue the rich tradition of this beloved local Church. The history of the Catholic faith in your lands is marked by its powerful witness to the Gospel through so many holy men and women, not least of whom is St John Henry Newman, who, as you know well, last year was named a Doctor of the Church. Their example and intercession continue to sustain and inspire both the local and universal Church. In particular, the widespread devotion to the English and Welsh martyrs in diverse parts of the world is truly noteworthy."
