

Saint Gregory the Great Northampton

OUR VISION "A truly thriving Catholic community confidently and humbly proclaiming the Good News of Jesus Christ."

Daily Bread

During lockdown many people tried their hand at making bread, creating a daily loaf which was the work of their hands. People suddenly found they had time on their hands, because a good loaf takes time to prove and rise, and enjoyed the simple 'magic' where something as simple as flour and water, and little else, becomes something tasty and satisfying. The good baker knows that it is not complicated, you just need a daily routine which allows time so that the bread will be ready when you want it - when your hunger needs satisfying.

Two thousand years after Jesus taught us this simple request - to have basic food each day - we know that for many it remains a real prayer. Many people in our country have to turn to food banks to have access to something to feed them and their families. Many parishes have supported schemes to help those in need in the community so that they can have something to eat. This 'daily bread' is both a symbol and reality of the challenges which face us both locally and globally in terms of food production, climate change and economic systems and which often hit the poor and disadvantaged both globally and locally.

To highlight just one aspect Pope Francis writes in Laudato 'Si that 'we know that approximately a third of all food produced is discarded, and "whenever food is thrown out it is as if it were stolen from the table of the poor' (Laudato 'Si §50).

The Lord's Prayer begins with 'our' Father and continues here with give 'us'. Jesus is not inviting us to make the personal prayer of an individual but to pray for 'all, in solidarity with their needs and sufferings' (Catechism of the Catholic Church §2829).

Indeed, at this point in the Lord's Prayer it takes a turn. So far Jesus has taught us to offer praise to our Father, now we ask for something, we make petition, which is the pattern for the rest of the prayer. This two-part structure of praise and petition is why the Lord's Prayer is called the model of prayer. It forms the pattern of many of the prayers in the liturgy, such as the Collects, where we offer praise to God for what he has done for us and then ask him to respond to our needs. This pattern can also form our own prayers.

At Mass we pray the Lord's Prayer shortly before the distribution of Holy Communion. As the prayer of the baptised it is one of the signs of our communion which prepares us to receive the Body and Blood of the Lord but we also pray this petition 'give us...' as sign of our desire to receive. In the Eucharist, we know that we do not live on bread alone but the word of God - the Bread of Life we seek is 'the Word of God accepted in faith, the Body of Christ received in the Eucharist' (Catechism of the Catholic Church §2835).

The picture, reproduced from the 'The Miracle of the Bread and Fish' by Giovanni Lanfranco (1582 – 1647) is in the National Gallery of Ireland. The picture was originally painted for the Basilica of St Paul outside the Walls in Rome, 1620-1623.

Describe what you can see, what is happening?

What does this picture say about the generosity of God?

In the Eucharist, in Jesus himself, you receive the nourishment and grace to live out your vocation in the world. How might you live in this powerful reality?

Do you know about Northampton's 'Daily Bread'?

In 1980 a group from the Anglican parish of St Peter's in Weston Favell set up a small business to reflect their Christian faith; a workers co-operative based on fair trade, selling good organic wholesome food, as much as possible sourced locally. They are based in the 'Old Laundry' on Bedford Road between the bottom of Cliftonville and the Barnes Meadow roundabout. All the coffee that we serve in the hall comes from Daily Bread, and their shop is well worth a visit. On the same site is a small garden centre, a charity shop and a café. Daily Bread gives a proportion of its revenue to charity, supporting the Hope Centre and other local good causes. The work is underpinned by prayer and by a solid Christian commitment, exemplified in the name of the business.

World Day of Prayer (Formerly World Women's Day of Prayer

There appears to be some confusion over what was once called "World Women's Day of Prayer", now simply called the "World Day of Prayer" and the "World Women's Day" or sometimes called "International Women's Day"

The World Women's Day of Prayer began in 1887 in America as a day of prayer for missions, initially fixed for the first Friday of Lent, but in 1969 the date was changed to the first Friday in March, thus, this year, last Friday! This year the focus of prayer is for Palestine.

World Women's Day sprung from the Women's Suffrage movement at the beginning of the 20th century, and is backed by the United Nations as a day to focus on gender discrimination and promoting gender equality, and is celebrated on 8th March (whatever day of the week it is).

Although March 1st is designated as the day of prayer, in response to the request from Cardinal Nichols, on Friday 8th March there will be a special day of prayer for the Holy Land. There will be Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament from after Mass at 9.00 am until Midday. This will be in the hall, which is well-heated. All are welcome.

World leaders, Churches and even our main political parties (even though they cannot agree over words) are calling for an end to the killing in Gaza. We pray that those who can bring this about will listen to that call.

Prayer for Peace for Ukraine and the Holy Land:

Please continue to pray for an end to wars, and for all victims of war:

O God, author and lover of peace, to know you is to live, to serve you is to reign.

Defend against every attack those who cry to you

so that we, who trust in your protection, may not fear the weapons of any foe.

We ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns for ever and ever.

Amen

Sunday 3rd March: The 3rd Sunday of Lent, Year B

In Genesis God promised to shower blessings on Abraham and his descendants. Today Exodus spells out the people's part of the covenant. In the Law given to Moses on Sinai the Ten Commandments are followed by 10 chapters of detailed rules about behaviour and ritual. Meanwhile, back at the foot of the mountain, the people became bored, and built a golden calf to worship!

The Psalm praises God's moral law, underlining the irony of worshipping a golden calf: God's decrees "are more to be desired than gold".

Paul began his letter to the Corinthians by telling them to stop squabbling among themselves. They should not divide into opposing groups, saying "I belong to Paul" or "I belong to Apollos", and so on. They must follow only the crucified Christ, who brought the Law of Moses to completion by his command to love one another. He demonstrated this love by dying on the Cross – "a stumbling block to Jews and foolishness to Gentiles".

In John's gospel Jesus cleanses the Temple at the beginning of his ministry, instead of towards the end, as in the other gospels. Jesus claims he will rebuild the Temple in three days, replacing it with himself and antagonising the Jewish leaders. From the start of John's gospel Jesus' death and resurrection are foreshadowed.

Psalm Response: You, Lord have the message of eternal life.

(Exodus 20: 1-17; Psalm 18(19); 1 Cor 1: 22-25; John 2: 13-25)

Chris Oliver

Bishop David writes:

There is something disturbing about today's Gospel. What sense can we make of the Lord's action, making a whip out of some cord, driving sellers out of the Temple and overturning the tables of religious commerce?

I am reminded of that moment when Jesus was an infant. Our Blessed Lady and St Joseph took him up to Jerusalem where he could be presented to the Lord in the Temple there. They offered a sacrifice to God in accordance with the Law, a pair of turtle-doves or two young pigeons. The Temple in Jerusalem was all about sacrifices to God; sacrifices of thanksgiving for blessings received, holocausts of desire for God's mercy for sins committed. There were various sacrifices for the many feasts celebrated by the children of Israel. The most important one being the sacrifice of a lamb for the Feast of the Passover.

The Sacred Heart of Jesus burned with compassion for all people. He came to establish God's reign, the Kingdom of God. This Kingdom is about life within a restored relationship with God after the Fall. Ultimately, Jesus himself would become the sacrificial lamb, the Lamb of God whose blood was poured out for us. Lamb of God, you take away the sins of the world.

Jesus came to heal the sick, cast out demons, restore order to our broken world. This is what Jesus seeks to do today. He invites us to become his workers in the vineyard. We are to break down the walls of prejudice and division. We are to work tirelessly for justice and peace. It is only right that the followers of Jesus should share his Heart, on fire with desire for a better world.

I wonder what it would have been like, to be a disciple of Jesus in the Temple that day. Maybe we would be having second thoughts. Do I really want to be identified with someone who acts in that manner? Do I want to be associated with someone who is so clearly a source of concern to the authorities? How many of us prefer a more quiet life!

And yet we are baptised to make a difference in our world. And the Cross is part of what this difference is all about. Jesus tells us this himself. Unless we take up our cross and follow him, we cannot be his disciple.

I said earlier, there is something disturbing about today's Gospel moment. This speaks to what happens after this event too. The Gospel tells us, many came to believe in Jesus. They saw the miraculous signs for themselves. They were excited with what was happening. The Gospel suggests Jesus was looking for more. Are we disciples who are just looking for signs and wonders? During this time of Lent, there is an opportunity for us to deepen our lives of faith. Jesus sees our weakness and frailty. He also sees our desire to stay close to him. To stay the course, and the challenges we encounter as disciples of Jesus.

Bishop David

Bishop David will be coming to our parish on Monday September 9th to reflect on what it means to be a pilgrim of hope. He will answer questions from those present and pray together as a community. It will begin at 7.00 pm

You are invited to attend and invite those who wish to discover more of the beauty of our Catholic faith.
